Vice Chancellor's Message

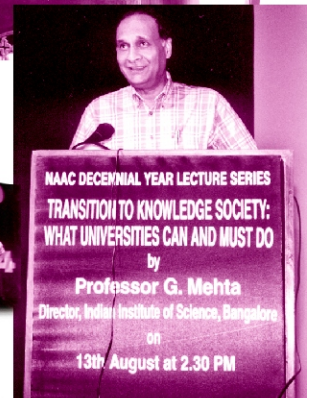

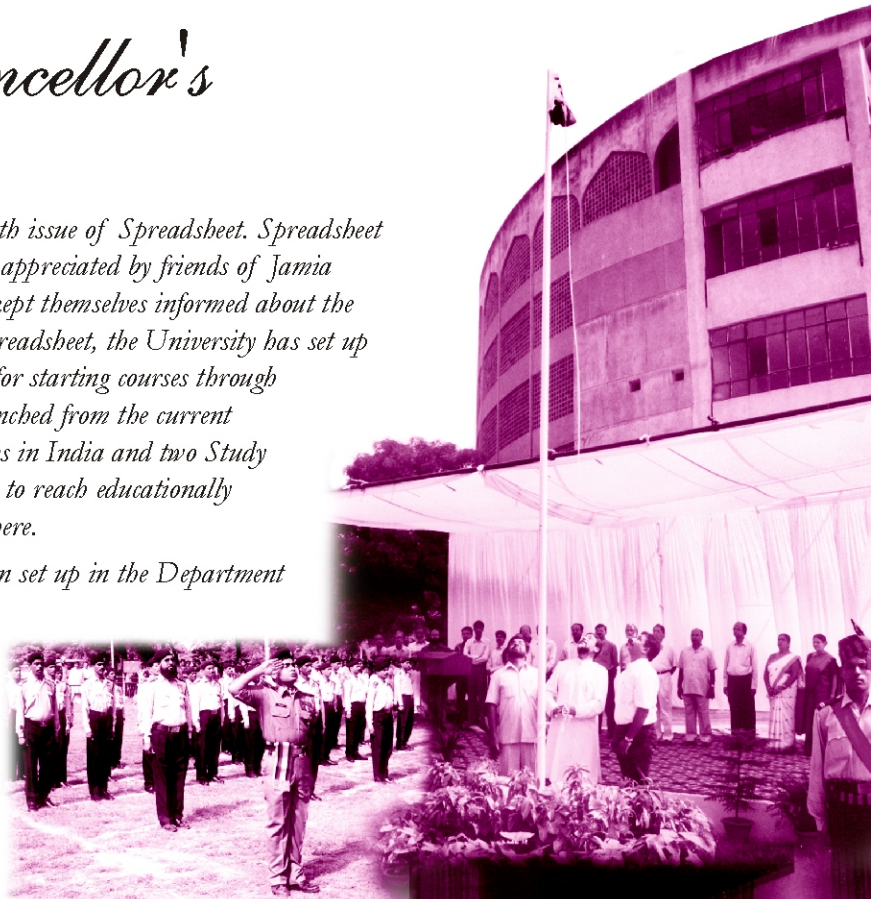

I am very happy to present before you the 8th issue of Spreadsheet. Spreadsheet was first published in March 2001. It has been appreciated by friends of Jamia Hamdard in India and abroad who have thus kept themselves informed about the University's activities. Since the last issue of Spreadsheet, the University has set up a Directorate of Open and Distance Learning for starting courses through distance mode. Seven programmes have been launched from the current academic year at 39 Distance Education Centres in India and two Study Centres in UAE. The University has been able to reach educationally backward areas by opening the Study Centres there.

A Centre for Study of Indian Muslims has been set up in the Department of Islamic Studies. The Centre will focus on socio-economic issues concerning India's largest religious minority. It is proposed to commission a number of studies on developmental issues concerning Indian Muslims.

The University participated in Common Entrance Tests for admission to MCA, MBA & B Pharm. We have attracted talented students from all parts of India to different courses in the University. More than 100 foreign students have also joined the University, bringing enormous diversity of nationalities to the already colourful campus of Jamia Hamdard.

In view of large number of activities in the campus, we propose to publish the Spreadsheet thrice in a year. It is also available online at University website: www.jamiahamdard.edu

Dear Friends,

It is indeed a pleasure to announce that henceforth, there will be three issues of Spreadsheet in a year. Thank you for the overwhelming response.

Our students have been placed with some of the top business houses and organizations across the county. I wish they start their new venture with a noble thought: Learn not only to earn but earn only to learn.

Feel free to email your valuable suggestions and comments at: inquiry@jamiyahamdard.edu, which I am sure will enhance the content of spreadsheet.

Find time to visit our website for more information as we keep updating it regularly. We welcome your suggestions and comments. Omissions, if any are deeply regretted.

Happy reading!
