

Managing Editor's Note

It is with immense pride and satisfaction that we present to you the inaugural issue of the HILSR Law Review. This publication represents the culmination of months of rigorous academic effort, thoughtful curation and collaborative dedication. As editors, our objective has been to create a platform that not only showcases high-quality legal scholarship but also encourages critical discourse on contemporary issues in law and jurisprudence.

In this issue, readers will find a diverse range of articles, book review and legal essays that engage with both traditional and emerging areas of law. Each contribution has been carefully selected through a double-blind peer-review process, ensuring academic integrity and scholarly merit. The thematic breadth of the articles reflects the dynamic nature of legal study today—spanning doctrinal analysis, socio-legal inquiry and interdisciplinary perspectives.

We are deeply grateful to all our contributors, reviewers and the editorial team for their unwavering commitment throughout this process. It is our hope that the HILSR Law Review will not only enrich academic discourse but also inspire meaningful engagement and future research among students, academicians, and legal practitioners alike. We look forward to building on this foundation and continuing to serve as a vibrant forum for legal thought and scholarship.

As we embark on this journey, we remain committed to amplifying diverse voices and perspectives that challenge conventional thinking and push the boundaries of legal understanding. With each forthcoming issue, we aspire to evolve and adapt to the changing contours of the legal landscape, ensuring that the HILSR Law Review remains both relevant and forward-looking.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Abhishek Gupta', with a horizontal line drawn underneath it.

Dr. Abhishek Gupta
Managing Editor, HILSR Law Review